

Jaime Ramírez Gálvez

Marine Electrician
jaime@bentos.cl

Mr. Ramírez is an Electronics Technician with a higher education academic background and training at the Naval Polytechnical Academy. He has compiled experience in various areas, such as administration of personnel, marine scientific equipment of latest generation, technical advisory support for decision-making and participation on electronic engineering projects.

He served in the Chilean Navy for 20 years and additionally completed training on a personal basis in the field of information technology. In his years of service with the Navy, he was always rated highest on service list 1, and was openly distinguished by his peers for his initiative, meticulousness and professionalism.